Crady deGolian and Rick Masters recently spoke about CSG’s ongoing effort to assist states in developing a prescription drug monitoring compact at the sixth annual Harold Rogers PDMP Meeting in Washington DC. The meeting, which was presented by the Alliance for State with Prescription Drug Programs, drew state PMP administrators, federal officials and national organizations with an interest in reducing the abuse of prescription drugs. During the presentation Crady and Rick educated the group about compact law, provided specific details about the ongoing PMP compact, and answered several questions about the future of the project.
