A record number of ballot initiatives regarding marijuana have been proposed this year. According to Ballotpedia, nine states have initiatives concerning marijuana on the ballot this fall. Arizona, California, Maine, Massachusetts and Nevada are considering initiatives to legalize recreational marijuana, while Arkansas, Florida, Montana and North Dakota are voting on legalizing medical marijuana.

Currently, 25 states have legalized the medical use of marijuana; four of them have legalized recreational use as well.

According to a Gallup poll, a majority (58%) of Americans now support the legalization of marijuana.
