Climate Adaptation: How are Western States Addressing It?
Tuesday, Sept. 26
2 p.m. EDT
FREE CSG webinar presented by CSG West

During this webinar we will look at decision-making frameworks that have been set up on the state and community levels to address the potential economic, environmental and social costs of climate change. We will also explore initiatives and strategies that are part of climate adaptation plans states and communities have adopted to interpret climate science and become climate resilient.
