

Monty Neill, Ed.D.

Executive director

National Center for Fair & Open Testing (FairTest)

Neill has led FairTest's work on testing in the public schools since 1987. He chairs the Forum on Educational Accountability, an alliance working to overhaul federal education law based on the Joint Organizational Statement on No Child Left Behind, signed by more than 150 national organizations. He also leads Testing Resistance and Reform, a network of dozens of state and local groups. He has published widely on assessment reform issues in Phi Delta Kappan, Education Week, association journals and book chapters, as well as many publications for FairTest, including Implementing Performance Assessment. He has taught and been an administrator at the pre-school, high school and college levels.