Section VIII

THE STATE PAGES
The following pages present individual summaries on the several states, commonwealths and territories.

Included are listings of certain of the executive officials, the Chief Justices of the Supreme Courts, officers of the legislatures, and members of the Commissions on Interstate Cooperation. Listings of all officials are as of January, 1958.

Concluding each page are population figures and other statistics, furnished by the United States Bureau of the Census. Most of the data on the following pages, however, were provided directly by agencies of the states themselves.

(a) By the Treaty of Paris, 1783, England gave up claim to the Iberian colonies, and to all land within an area extending along the present Canadian border to the Lake of the Woods, down the Mississippi River, to the parallel line to the Chattahoochee, down that river to the mouth of the Flint, east to the source of the St. Mary's, down that river to the ocean. Territory west of the Alleghenies was claimed by various states, but was eventually all ceded to the nation, the northern part of Alabama was acquired by the Treaty of Paris but the southern portion from Spain in 1815. (b) Portion of land obtained by Gadsden Purchase, 1853. (c) No territorial status before admission to Union. (d) Portion of land ceded by Mexico, 1848. (e) One of the original 13 colonies. (f) Date of ratification of U. S. Constitution. (g) West Feliciana Parish (Baton Rouge) acquired from Spain, 1810; added to Louisiana, 1812. (h) Portion of land obtained by Louisiana Purchase, 1803. (i) See footnote (a). The lower portion of Mississippi was also acquired from Spain in 1815. (j) Portion of land obtained from Oregon Territory, 1848. (k) The northern portion of the Old River Valley were acquired by treaty with Great Britain in 1818. (l) On this date Puerto Rico became a self-governing commonwealth; it is now a territory of the United States, but is not a state.

Number of Cities over 10,000 Population: 14
Number of Municipalities: 76

*The increase to 368,756 (total urban population of the Capital City, San Juan) is due to the fact that Río Piedras, which is physically close to San Juan, was, by law, consolidated with San Juan into one municipality.
The Legislature is composed of eleven members known as Senators. The Virgin Islands are divided into three legislative districts as follows: the District of St. Thomas, the District of St. Croix, and the District of St. John. Two Senators are elected from the District of St. Thomas; two from the District of St. Croix; one from the District of St. John, and the other six are At-Large and are elected by electors of the Virgin Islands as a whole. The term of office of each member of the Legislature is two years. Regular sessions of the Legislature are held annually, commencing on the second Monday in April, and continue in regular session for not more than sixty consecutive calendar days in any calendar year.
